

Week 1, Episode 2 There's a Light in You

A song written by my friend Bob Reid with help from some 6th graders in California. When faced with difficult times the response was to help one another and try and convey that our differences don't separate us because we are all humans at the core.

Chorus: There's a light in me, there's a light in you
Whatever language you speak, whatever your point of view
Whatever people may say whatever people may do
There's a light in you, you must
Let the light shine through

Verse:

My friend Sam says she doesn't fit
When she wants to play the kids want to sit
Sometimes it's hard, I must admit
I hope she doesn't quit
She's gotta keep it lit

Chorus

Verse:

I am short he is tall
It doesn't matter if I am small
Whatever size I happen to be
There's a light in me, Please
Take the time to see

Chorus

Verse: When the world is looking grim
It can happen to her, it can happen to him
That's when you need that light to glow
C'mon and let it show
It's brighter than you know.

Chorus 2X
